NON-BICENTENNIALISM. . .

The name of the place is close enough to 116's to invite inquiry.

It's the town of Luckenbach, population 3, according to reports on the "non-Bicentennial city" 60 miles northwest of San Antonio.

Most fascinating is a plan for a "National Non-Bicentennial Day" in Luckenbach Leap Year Day, Sunday, February 29.

The unlikely Luckenbachians plan "such non-Bicentennial activities as reading at least the first paragraph of the Declaration of Independence, boycotting all red, white and blue souvenirs made in China, Taiwan or Uganda and not dressing any man, woman, child or animal in an Uncle Sam suit."

I kinda like all this. It's not unpatriotic. It's a slap at the unpatriotic exploitation of a great country's 200th anniversary.

Luckenbach even claims it's a place "where everybody is somebody."

Founded in 1850, the town is coowned by Hondo Crouch and Kathy Morgan. And the non-Bicentennial City designation came last August during an annual festival sponsored by a group known as the Happy Jazz Band. About 2,000 people visited Luckenbach during the festival.

Perhaps Luckenbachians also are playing hey-nonny-nonny at the cash register with this non-Bicentennialism.

Organizers promise they are accepting no federal support for non-Bicentennial affairs. But the Happy Jazz Band is playing music Leap Year Day in Luckenbach, including a special "The Buy-Centennial Red, White and Blue Blues."

However, admission will be free, reports say.

The Luckenbach general store is there, and it includes a bar. The only other building is a dancehall, except for the ruins of a livery stable and an old cotton gin.

I think I'll go to Luckenbach Leap Year Day and see the Non-Bicentennial. I'll bet the beer's not free. Even when lunch was free at a bar in the Gay Nineties, the beer wasn't.

Rain Gives Rest To Volunteers From Grass Fires

Cameron's fire chief, Felix Matula, says the rain on Monday evening will help a lot of the problems of grass fires, which were becoming more numerous each week as the dry weather continued.

Volunteer firemen were called out to two fires Saturday and five on Sunday, most of them grass fires.

A trash fire got out of control on North Crockett Saturday and the other fire was a grass fire on West 22.

At 2 a.m. Sunday the firemen took two trucks to fight a grass fire on the Fuchs farm at Pettibone. On Sunday afternoon two trucks were sent to a trash fire on the Country Club Road.

At 3:15 p.m. firemen were called to a grass fire in the Six Mile Road area near Gause and were called back to the same location at 7:15 p.m. The last call Sunday was at 6:45 and was to a grass fire on the highway right-of-way north of Milano.

Buckholts Sets Bond Election For Sewers

The Buckholts Board of Commissioners has called a February 7 bond election to finance a sewer system for the town. Total amount of the bonds is $320,000, but the voters will vote on two propositions: $64,000 in tax bonds and $256,000 revenue bonds.

Buckholts Mayor Richard Crowe said repayment of the bonds will be entirely with revenue, no tax will be levied. He said the townspeople indicated at town meetings that they will prefer it that way.

The town has no sewer system at this time, only septic tanks. Crowe said there is a drainage field problem in the blackland of the area which is not absorbent enough, and also causes a pollution problem.

The mayor said last September Buckholts took over management of the water district which was started in the area in 1957. He said both systems will help support each other. The water system is in good financial shape, Crowe added, with a possibility of reducing tax on the water.

Another public meeting on the bond issue has been set for Feb. 5 on the Thursday before the election.

Bank Breakin Nets No Cash

A breakin at the Thorndale State Bank sometime Monday night left thieves frustrated as they tried to chisel through a wall around the vault and got nowhere.

Norman Clements, president of the bank, said nothing was taken from the bank. Entry was gained through a back door. Law enforcement officials are investigating the breakin.

Cow Clinic To Draw Cattlemen

By Billy M. McCutchen
Milam County Extension Agent

The theme of the Central Texas Cow-Calf Clinic Friday, January 23 at Bode's Livestock Commission Company in Milano is "Bullish on the Cow Business." The theme does not reflect the attitudes of a lot of cattlemen however, as the beef industry is presently suffering through one of the more depressed periods in history.

Some of the top educators, producers, and industrymen in the Texas beef cattle industry will be on the program. Some of the program participants include Dr. O. D. Butler, Dr. Bill Pope, and Frank Litterst of Texas A&M University; Jim Theeck, Mayfair Ranch manager of Brenham; Dr. Robert M. Titsworth of Cameron, and Leon Noack of Rockdale.

DR. O. D. BUTLER, JR., head of the Animal Science Department at Texas A&M will moderate the program which will begin with registration at 8:30 a.m. and end at 3:45 p.m.

Program topics are geared to production efficiency, animal health, marketing and outlook, and hopefully will be some help in riding out the rough times that the beef industry is in.

This program is sponsored by the beef subcommittees of Milam, Williamson, Burleson, Bastrop, Lee, and Travis Counties with assistance from the Milam County Farm Bureau and Agricultural Committee of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce.

Registration for the clinic will be $5. This will include refreshments, a noon barbecue lunch, and the program.

Attendance at the clinic is not limited to counties involved in the planning session. Anyone interested in the beef industry is welcome to attend.

PROGRAM SCHEDULE for the day is as follows:

8:30 a.m. - Registration, $5 (includes program, noon meal and refreshments)

9:30 a.m. - Welcome, Morris Coward, Cameron

9:40 a.m. - Selecting the Producers, Frank Litterst, Texas A&M Animal Science Department (A selection demonstration of cows and replacement heifers, using live cattle)

10:40 a.m. - Refreshment break

11:00 a.m. - The Cow Business in '76, Dr. Bill Pope, Texas A&M University (Is relief in sight for the hard pressed cowman?)

12:00 noon - Barbecue beef lunch

1:00 p.m. - A visit with a cowman, Jim Theeck, Brenham (Mayfair Ranch Manager talks horse sense about the cow business)

1:50 p.m. - Keeping them healthy and productive, Dr. Robert M. Titsworth, DVM, Cameron (A practicing veterinarian tells it like it is)

2:45 p.m. - Why the difference in calf prices, Leon Noack, Rockdale, moderator. (A live demonstration, looking at a typical run of calves with a panel of buyers)

Temple Men Injured In Sunday Accident

Department of Public Safety Trooper Jerry Benson of Rockdale investigated three accidents late Sunday and early Monday morning, in which serious injuries were suffered by one passenger.

The most serious accidentinvolved three Temple men on Highway 77 five miles south of Rockdale at the Yegua Creek bridge. Injured seriously in the 4 a.m. mishap was Mike Leonel, 34, a passenger in a car driven by George Caddell. Another passenger, Joe Villanueva Jr. and Caddell suffered minor injuries.

All three were treated at Richards Hospital in Rockdale and Leonel was transferred to the Veterans Administration Hospital in Temple for treatment of head injuries.

At 11 p.m. Sunday a car driven by Mario Rodriguez of Refugio struck a calf on the highway, Benson said. Heavy damage was inflicted to the car but the driver was not injured.

Then at 1 a.m. Monday a one-car turnover involved a car driven by Jessie Aleman of Branchville, who was not injured. The accident occurred one-half mile west of Branchville on FM 485.

Cameron police reported a one-car accident at 5:15 p.m. Monday in the 500 block of East Seventh when a car driven by Mrs. Robert Weems went out of control and struck a telephone pole.

Police reports said Mrs. Weems was traveling east on Seventh and swerved to avoid a pickup driven by John Krall of Cameron who was turning left on Seventh from Washington.

Mrs. Weems' car traveled through a yard at 501 E. Seventh, came back on the street and struck the pole, breaking it off at the ground. Krall took her to the hospital where she was treated for a laceration on her head. Her car was heavily damaged.

Sales Tax Refund Received By City For December

Cameron banked a total of $2,275.08 this week as its share of sales taxes for the period ending January 3, 1976.

Rockdale received $1,769.74 for the same period but Rogers and Rosebud received none as checks are not mailed to cities whose allocations are under $500.

Total collections for 1975 totaled $71,996.32, not counting the latest check, which was for December sales. However, the city's fiscal year runs from October to October.

The city received $20,693.11 in March of 1975 and this was payment for the last quarter of 1974. After that payment, the state comproller started paying monthly instead of quarterly, and totals were:

April, $2,721.61; May, $9,912.60; June $8,874.23; July, $1,239.55; August $9,185.36; September $10,762.66; October $2,292.92; and November, $8,450.98.

That's a lot of pennies.

City, Ma Bell Reach Agreement

The city finally reached an agreement with Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in negotiations for a rate increase and payment of the franchise tax, according to a report from Mayor Gene Blake at Tuesday's council meeting.

The company's franchise tax will go up from 2 percent to 3 percent and will be paid semi-annually, a stipulation the company would not agree to at first. With the second reading of the rate ordinance at the February meeting, telephone rates will go up.

In other business, council passed a resolution of election, setting the city election for April 6. Terms of Councilmen Ernest Moore, Place 1, and Lincoln Mondrik, Place 2, will expire. The mayor's term will also expire.

The same equalization board was appointed including D. R. Dodson, T. J. Manness and Emil Biskup. Council heard a report from Police Chief Kent Butler that the department will install a CB monitor and will monitor Channel 9.

A. W. McCullin, Community Development Agency director, reported that the Town and Country Tennis Association has $3,240 left from funds for new tennis courts built in city park, and asked to spend some of the money on improvements to the courts, including a restroom.

Discussion centered in possible vandalism to the restroom and it was agreed that it would be kept locked except for occasions such as a tennis tournament, school picnic, or family reunions.

'Unbridled Idealism...'

We note "Man of La Mancha" is going on the boards January 27 at Waco Hall.

This newspaper wrote often of "impossible dreams" perhaps two or three years at the turn of 1969-1971, in terms of civic, cultural, and economic development of this town and area.

Many are reality. Others, like a major civic center-arena, are entering serious planning stages. Light industry in Cameron is expanding and the promise of other development is apparent in 1976.

Anyone who has seen "Man of La Mancha" catches the visions of the literary leggend Don Quixote, but they also realize Miguel Cervantes wrote autobiographically in what is considered the West's first novel. And it is a great one.

The musical gives lyrics and color to a dream of chivalry and "unbridled idealism."

We need that in Texas. We need that, touched with the reality of humanism, in Waco and Temple and Cameron and all those towns and counties in Central Texas.

We need the courage to find another Camelot, a new direction, a greater view, a deeper hope, a resounding triumph for all the tragedy of this and every generation.

Cervantes spent much of his life in dungeons and poverty after capture by the Moslems. He writes of the Inquisition, which Don Quixote in the musical sings of as well as jousting windmills.

"Man of La Mancha" translates "never give up" to those who see it and sing it. We appreciate Baylor and Southwest Concerts bringing it to Waco.

What Others Say

Small Towns Growing ...

Small Texas towns had things going against them for a quarter of a century. Young people moved away. Stores closed. Weeds took over yards of vacant homes. Government and business leaders ignored rural crossroads as they concentrated on urban problems.

But like a sprig of native Bermuda grass, Texas towns have shown amazing resilience. With the barest of life's essentials, such as a little water and favorable climate, they come alive with remarkable vigor. Some like a grass sprig, seem now to be running all over the countryside.

The status of the small town was examined by leaders of government and private sectors at a meeting in Austin the other day. They agreed that a bright future faces the towns.

"It's mind-boggling what you can do if you offer small towns a little assistance," said Edward Protz of the Moody Foundation. Gov. Dolph Briscoe said that much of the strength of Texas in the future lies in its small towns.

There's a good reason for the bright outlook of small towns. The fact is that, while their tops were being cut away over the last 25 years, their roots remained deep and healthy.

For a time, everybody seemed to feel a need to crowd within an urban boundary looking for the good life. Now an increasing number are finding the opposite --that boundaries don't really mean much any more, and that knowing neighbors and living where there's elbow room means a lot.

They agree with the famous Emporia, Kan., Gazette editor, William Allen White, who said that, man for man, Emporia is better than New York.

Small towns are not without their problems, but they are often different from those of cities. One problem, pointed out by speakers at the session in Austin, is a handicap in competing against larger cities with professional staffs for funds to operate needed programs.

For a time there also may be shortages of persons with certain skills. But this will be corrected as more people with those skills choose to live beyond the urban boundaries.

A town today may appear as small as it was years ago. But its appearance often belies its true strength. The truth is found on the roads beyond its city limits: New and modernized homes; manufacturing and processing plants; substantial, mechanized agricultural operations. Out there we find much of a town's real size.

Small towns offer a living environment that many people want today. With a little care, they will grow like grass again.

Hearing Set On School Ruling

School superintendents and board presidents have been invited to a statewide hearing here, January 26, on Atty. Gen. John Hill's recent opinion outlawing many student fees.

The State Board of Education has upheld Texas Education Commissioner M.L. Brockette's order for local districts to stop collection of the fees immediately.

Brockette on October 10 instructed districts to abide by Hill's October 1 opinion. The Hill ruling applied to such fees as those charged for workbooks, driver education and uniform rental for band members.

If it stands, the opinion will require local districts to dig up $22 million more this school year to replace the lost fees, according to a Texas Education Ageny study.

State Board of Education Chairman Joe Kelly Butler named a special committee headed by E.R. Gregg of Jacksonville to study the issue.

Butler said he hopes the panel will have an interim report in time for the board's February 14 meeting.

Allowable Set

Texas Railroad Commission set the February oil allowable—for the 47th straight month—at 100 per cent. There was one exception—the East Texas field, held to 86 per cent.

Meanwhile, oilmen expressed concern the federal government may be maneuvering to take over the oil industry. They said they will outline views on proposed Federal Energy Administration rules at a meeting of the Commission next month.

February nominations by buyers totalled more than 3.9 million barrels a day, 18,123 down from January.

Economy Studied

A new Joint Advisory Committee on Government Operations will study governmental reorganization and try to come up with ideas to curtail creation of new agencies.

One proposal is to require that all legislation proposing new agencies be accompanied with an authoritative note spelling out the function and program to be performed.

Committee spokesmen also commented on lack of state control over soaring higher education expenditures.

Cutback Ordered

Texas Youth Council will reduce its community assistance grants due to Gov. Dolph Briscoe's decision to hold back $2 million in appropriated funds for the purpose.

The grants were expected to go to probationary programs. Plans were scratched for a third "halfway house" to serve youngsters returning from youth reform institutions to local communities.

Courts Speak

Texas Supreme Court held that $2.5 million worth of imported items in a warehouse at Farmers Branch are exempt from local property taxes, but it may have to reconsider. The U.S. Supreme Court, switching a 100-year-old position, said state and local governments can tax imported merchandise.

In other recent opinions, the high court concluded:

—A couple hurt in a motorcycle wreck is entitled to $106,683 from the City of Denton due to a faulty traffic signal.

—A Kroger Company appeal from a $25,700 judgement in a case where a teen-aged grocery checker was imprisoned on a theft charge should be dismissed.

—A trial court decision to throw out an insurance company's $9,000 suit against a Dallas law firm (alleging a legal mistake) is proper.

AG Opinions

Attorney General Hill found the Coordinating Board Texas College and University System cannot turn down campus construction projects on the basis of cost per square foot.

In other recent opinions, Hill decided:

—There is no minimum World War II length of service requirement to qualify for a college tuition exemption.

—Presentation of a driver's license in court is an absolute defense to a charge of operating a motor vehicle without having a license in one's immediate possession.

—Firemen's relief and retirement funds in affected cities are eligible to receive an annual apportionment from the state appropriation.

Rebound Reported

Texas Industrial Commission's Executive Director Jim Harwell reports a significant rebound in industrial development during the last quarter of 1975.

Harwell told TEC the increase in economic activity may be proof the recessionary trend is at an end in Texas.

A record number of 16 industrial prospect visits were made during the September - December period, compared to only nine the same quarter last year. The number of current active prospects increased to 478 from 333 during the last quarter of 1974.

Short Snorts

U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen launched his senatorial reelection campaign with an eight-cities tour.

Governor Briscoe has named J.B. Potts of Post to the Brazos River Authority Board of Directors. He appointed Louis E. McClish of Amarillo to the Texas Pest Control Association and A.D. Clark III of Tyler to be Smith County criminal district attorney.

Don Butler, Austin city attorney, will be the Texas Municipal League's new utility counsel.

A House sub-committee will conduct hearings on public employee collective bargaining effects.

Railroad Commission Candidate Walter Wendlandt switched to the Republican party.

A Dallas fund-raising dinner cleared about $140,000 to help Governor Briscoe pay off some old campaign debts.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear Editor:

As some of you may know, I was suddenly carted off to the hospital a few weeks ago, but I can now report that I'm back in fairly good working order.

Thought I'd tell you about a dream I had. I dreamed that for some strange reason the three TV and radio network editors and the grass leading newspaper and wire service editors all gathered at my Johnson grass farm out here one day. There was Walter Cronkite, John Chancellor, David Brinkley, James Reston, and too many others to mention. "Look," the president of CBS said, "We're getting tired of having to chase all over the world with our cameras and reporters every time a world crisis breaks out in some country we never heard of before."

"That's right," John Chancellor chimed in. "I've been in the news business all my life and it was only a month ago I heard of Angola. Took two secretaries half the morning to find it on the map."

"Yeah," Cronkite put in. "Beirut, Zaire, Zanzibar, Belfast--every one of them has been in a world crisis at one time or another. Everybody gets excited, world leaders confer and wring their hands, we report it all, then the crisis fades away and we get set for another one. It's getting monotonous. There ought to be some way to stop it."

This dream is pretty wild because at that point I spoke up.

"I've got an idea," I said. "Let's teach the world a little lssson. Let's make up a mythical country, manufacture a crisis there, put it on TV and radio and in the newspapers, and then sit back and see how the world leaders perform."

"Great idea," David Brinkely saod. "What are we going to call this country?"

"I've got the perfect name," I said. "Let's call it Hypodermia."

"Great," James Rasten of the New York Times said.

They all agreed and that evening the news was filled with the new world crisis developing in far-off Hypodermia. "Internal strife is boiling over in the towns and throughout the countryside," the reports went. "Two Soveit ships loaded with supplies have ben sighted off the east coast of Hypodermia."

Lights burned late in the U. S. State Department that night and by next morning Washington was seething with excitement.

"Where is Hypodermia?" one State Department expert asked.

"What difference does that make?" another put in.

Unfortunately, a nurse came in to give me a pill before I finished this dream, but you've got to admit it has some side-splitting possibilities, especially when you think of all those cargo planes loaded with U.S. aid circling the globe trying to locate Hypodermia so they can land and protect our interests.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

EASY BUTTER LOAF NEEDS NO KNEADING. Today's busy homemaker can have fresh homemade bread -- without the long hours of mixing, kneading and shaping the dough.

Full of energy - giving carbohydrates and the essential B-vitamins, bread is an important part of daily nutrition. This butter loaf is prepared without kneading and needs to rise only once. The texture is smooth and the bread a creamy yellow color.

BUTTER LOAF

1 pkg. dry yeast
1/4 cup warm water
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 pound butter or margarine (soft)
4 1/2 tablespoons sugar
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup warm milk
3 eggs
4 1/2 cups all purpose flour (sifted)
1 teaspoon vanilla

Dissolve yeast in warm water with one teaspoon sugar. Cream together butter with four and one-half tablespoons sugar. Stir in milk. Add eggs and beat well. Add yeast, mixing well. Add flour and salt about one cup at a time, add vanilla. Dough will be very soft. Refrigerate overnight or several hours.

Divide dough into two pieces and then braid together. Makes two loaves. Let rise until double in bulk, about one and one-fourth hours. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 30 minutes or until done.

For fancy loaves, brush the top of the risen loaves with egg white and sprinkle with poppy of sesame seeds.

DISTRICT 4-H COUNCIL MEETING. The Milam County 4-H Council will be represented at the District 10 4-H Council Meeting on January 23 and 24 by three outstanding 4-H'ers. Mary Lee Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy C. Graham of Thorndale, is chairman of the District 10 Council.

TWO THOUSAND FARMS AND RANCHES disappeared from Texas during 1975, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes.

The preliminary estimate for the number for farms and ranches in Texas for 1976 represents a decline of 1 per cent from a year ago.

And even though the farm numbers did decline a small amount, the number of acres in farms and ranches stayed the same, thus the decline in total numbers was brought about by addition to other farms and ranches. Total land in farms and ranches is set at 141,800,000 acres.

The average size farm and ranch in Texas is now 692 acres compared to 685 acres a year ago.

County Agent's Notes

PestManagement Program Open

By Bill McCutchen

A series of meetings are set for the week of January 26 throughout the cotton growing areas of the county to explain the 1976 Pest Management Program and to start accepting applications.

The Program costs to farmers are $1.60 per acre on dryland cotton and $1.30 per acre on grain sorghum. Most of the interest is expected to be on cotton. The $1.60 per acre amounts about to the cost of 1 spraying and for this you get a field scouting team and a trained entomologist to assist you in decision making on insecticide applications. The final decisions are all yours, of course.

A lot of interest is expected from cotton producers in the river and creek bottom areas where bollworms are always a threat and those who have weevil and worm problems frequently on upland cotton should seriously consider applying for this ervice.

Only about 4,000 acres in the county can be accepted in the program and of course concentration of acreage will have to be considered because of travel time.

Meetings are scheduled for 12:30 Jan. 26 at the Branchville Store; 7 p.m. Jan. 26 at the Vocational Ag Building in Buckholts: 7 p.m. on Jan. 27 at the Farm Bureau Office in Cameron; and 7 p.m. at the Burlington Community Center on Jan. 29.

Meetings at Noack and Hare in Williamson County are expected to contact most interested producers in the Thorndale and San Gabriel areas. If not, a meeting in Thorndale will be scheduled the week of Jan. 26 also.

Deadline for the signup will be Feb. 20. For further information contact W. E. Beckhusen, H. M. Yager, or the County Extnsion Office.

Cow-Calf Clinic

In addition to all of the imported talent featured at the Central Texas Cow-Calf Clinic on Jan. 23 at Bode's Livestock Commission Co. at Milano, several local authorities will be featured.

Morris Coward, Cameron rancher and livestock committee chairman will be presenting the welcome; Dr. R. M. Titsworth will be on the program on animal health; Leon Noack, Hereford breeder from Rockdale will moderate the buyers panel; and Clifford Angell, order buyer from Cameron will be on the buyers panel.

Many thanks to the livestock subcommittee members, Milam County Farm Bureau, Ag committee of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce who has assisted with the program and program planning.

Bankers To Receive Ag Loan Info

Texas bankers dealing with agricultural loans must have firsthand knowledge about what's down the road for various agricultural commodities. And that's just what they're going to get at the 24th Texas Farm and Ranch Credit School for Commericial Bankers, Feb. 9-11, at the Rudder Center, Texas A&M University.

A special session will provice "outlook" information on livestock, cotton, grain and the money market, points out Dr. Richard Trible, economist in management for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Speakers will be Textension specialists Dr. Ed Uvacek and Roland Smith; Dr. Phillip Graland Smith; Dr. Phillip Gramm, Texas A&M professor of economics (currently on leave); Dr. Dan Davis of Lubbock, general amanger of the Plains Cotton Cooperative Association.

"We think this portion of the school will be of special interest to bankers since it will give them som idea of what to expect in the coming months in these particular areas," notes Trimble. "Many of the decisions they will have to make during the year will be based on 'outlook' information."

Other features of the school will include concurrent sessions on loans for crops and machinery.

SAFETY CORNER

Search Your Sole

Work surfaces for farmers vary from wood, concrete, and steel to mud and ice. Falls account for about 1/3 of all farm accidents. Work shoes with slip-resistant soles and heels can prevent many falls. Soft materials on shoe soles, materials such as vinyl plastics and white, non-hardened rubber, offer more traction on hard surfaces. A grooved sole tread is effective on wet and greasy surfaces.

G-522 Old reliable. The workhorse. A high yielder wherever it's planted. That's Funk's G-522, a sorghum hybrid that fits into any planting program and adjusts to virtually any soil condition.

Watch for G-522 to stand strong when winds and moisture work against you. Count on its big broad leaves to soak up maximum sunlight and to shade out competing weeds and grass. Result? An all-season performer that really delivers high yields, come rain or long drouths.

And at harvest, you'll like the way its large, semi-open heads of rich yellow grain dry down fast and thresh clean 'n easy.

So when you're looking to improve your profit outlook, plant this medium-late hybrid. Let the ol' reliable put another good year in the bank.

LARRY MAHAN: WORLD'S CHAMPION ALL-AROUND COWBOY

Conlee's Top Hand was the Number One Yielder in nine Texas official experimental stations.

A free sack of Conlee's TOP HAND grain sorghum seed. And a good Buck Knife to open it with. That's my offer.

Larry Mahan

Here's a real winner. . .a free sack of Top Hand with every ten you buy. . and, a famous Buck Muskrat Knife for early bookings.

That's my offer. I'm Larry Mahan. I've misjudged a lot of broncs in my time but there's one thing I'm sure of. . .

When it comes to making you a bundle of profit, Conlee's Top Hand grain sorghum is "a cut above the rest".

Top Hand is a yellow endosperm, medium to early maturing hybrid. It's disease and drouth tolerant, and it comes on strong with irrigation.

Top Hand produces big, high quality heads that dry fast, thresh clean. And, it really stays with the Texas weather cause it has an extra large root system that's stout as a bull.

Plant Top Hand this season. Convince yourself it'll out perform all the rest. See your seed dealer about my offer right away. A free sack of Conlee Top Hand . . . and a $13.00 Buck Muskrat Knife any man would be proud to carry.

HERE IS WHAT SOME TOP CENTRAL TEXAS MILO GROWERS SAY:

IRA BELL, JR.—BASTROP
I planted Top Hand row and broadcast for the 1975 crop year. Row yielded 4000 lbs. and broadcast 3500 lbs. I've planted Top Hand for 6 years and will plant all of my acreage in it again for 1976.
The combiners say it thrashed real good and cleaned out mighty good. I would recommend it.

E.C. BOECKER—BUCKHOLTS
Top Hand yields as well or better than any other hybrid I've planted and it is consistant year in and year out.

FRED RICHTER—THRALL
I like Top Hand because it is consistant. It's about the highest yielding hybrid we have found for year after year production.
In 1975 we got a good stand the first time we planted, and several of my neighbors had to replant their competitive hybrids.
IN A WORD—IT'S DEPENDABLE.

MARVIN LENZ—TAYLOR
I plant Top Hand because year in and year out it has been one of the highest producing hybrids I have found. I like the short, sturdy stalks, and excellent root system.
After all—a top yield is great but it has to be in the elevator before you can cash it in.

CONLEE It's a cut above the rest.

"Vacationing" Toys Get More Mileage

By now the "newness" may have worn off this year's Christmas toys and the children are bored with their playthings. Mrs. Ilene Miller, a family life education specialist, says.

She's with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Parents often complain that their child has a room full of toys he doesn't play with and he doesn't seem to appreciate all they've done for him."

If this sounds familiar, Mrs. Miller suggests that the key to understanding is to see the situation from the child's point of view. Children have short attention spans and may loose interest in the toys they play with day after day.

"Toys are not as appealing if the chid sees and uses them everyday. So alternate some of his toys. Send them 'on vacation' for a month or two. When the child's interest in his toys begins to fade, it's time to bring some toys back from 'vacation' and put other toys out of sight for a while," she advised.

Also, if the toys don't stimulate creativity, the child's interest may wane. Select playthings which require imagination and can be used in a variety of ways so the child will find his toys more fun and stimulating, the specialist said.

"For example, cups or boxes that can be nestled or stacked appeal to toddlers. The 3 to 6 year old will enjoy blocks, dolls, puppets, art activities, and dress-up clothes.

"School-age children like sports or active games, hobby kits, or card and board games which require thought and cooperation with friends," Mrs. Miller said.

She also suggested that good storage and display space makes the toys look more appealing. A joint project of building a low shelf for the child's room provides a good way to display and store his playthings.

"Low shelves are more effective for toy storage than a toy box because the child has better access to his playthings. Shelves allow him to get to his toys easily and to see what he has to play with," she explained.

We're doing lots of things differently... to keep your electric service dependable.

The technology and methods of producing and supplying electric power have changed considerably since Texas Power & Light Company began business back in 1912. Mostly, however, these changes came about gradually, unhurried by any urgent needs for change.

But today, we're doing things differently to keep your electric service dependable.

We're reducing our dependency on scarce and costly natural gas as a generating plant fuel by building plants which use readily available and more economical lignite coal. Two such plants are now in operation and others are under construction and being planned.

To operate lignite-fueled plants, we're producing more than 40,000 tons of this coal every day from deposits located near the plants. This is equal to about 400 large railroad carloads per day. We're restoring the land involved to productive condition.

At gas-fueled plants, we have millions of gallons of fuel oil ready to keep the plants going when supplies of gas are curtailed.

Together with two other North Texas electric companies, we're building a nuclear-fueled generating plant. The first unit of the plant is scheduled to be placed in service in 1980 and the second in 1982.

At Texas Power & Light, we will continue doing what must be done to assure you a dependable supply of electricity in the years ahead.

The Cameron Yoemen now 6-0 for the district ledger, remain undefeated after beating the only other undefeated district rival Elgin. The Yoemen outpaced the Wildcats Friday night in Elgin 80-63.

It was inside to Ronnie Bennett then outside to Jafus White. Working a tough offensive game the Yoemen scoring attack was led by Jafus White with 27, followed by inside shooting of Ronnie Bennett with 22.

On the defensive boards it was a repeat performance by Bennett and White. Bennett had sticky fingers pulling down 23 offensive and defensive rebounds followed by White with 9.

In the first quarter the Yoemen hit 9 of 29 shots from the field for a coll 32%. The Yoemen picked up 2 points from the free throw line and led the game 21-13.

Before the half intermission the Yoemen had built a 13 points advantage. The percentage improved with the Yoemen hitting 8 of 21 from the floor for 38%.

In the third quarter the Yoemen blazed the cylinder with a 50% accuracy. Michale White continued his fine offensive night's work and was able to tally in the double figures with 16.

The Lonely Heart

SPORT SPOTLIGHT

By FORREST GUESS

DALLAS. . .

One out of three isn't bad. That game against the Steelers did prove one thing, the best team did win.

The Cowboys did a great job and to say the least were lucky to even get that far. To say that the Cowboys were the best in the NFC is some honor.

What always seems to be a weakness in the Dallas team is their secondary. And that made the difference in Super Bowl X.

Heads up Tom, when you're in the Super Bowl there is no loser--it's just that the time runs out.

And, the time did run short for the last second come back that could have brought the second title for the Cowboys.

MONEY. . .

The problem of money doesn't hit just big cities like New York or even college athletic budgets.

In an article published in the National Observer local school districts are having to cut back on athletic budgets. Even cutting out football and basketball completely.

In the article entitled "Good by High School Sports" the author David Hacker points out that many school superintendents will face cutting out athletic programs along with many other extra curricular activities.

A lack of revenue from the sports makes the athletic expenditure the first to be cut from the budgets.

A quick glance at the cost of the total athletic budget would startle many people. Athletics isn't cheap.

Although the sports program isn't cheap it does play an important role in the overall educational process. Well--athletics is as American as mom's apple pie.

ALL-STATE

One, two, three. That was the decision of the Texas Sports Writers Association when they named Joe Smitherman, Ronnie Bennett, and Jafus White to the All-State football team's first team.

I guess you could even put Smitherman's name down twice since he made it both offensively and defensively.

Jafus White also was named to the second string defensive team.

POOLE SAID. . .

"Against Manor last week everyone got to play. For the first time everyone scored in the same game.

"We won 69-26. And it could have been a lot worse. Everyone got in the game in the first half.

"We accomplished what we went over there to do. We played all our players, and we experimented with some new things. And everyone got valuable game experience.

"Against Elgin I thought we had our best district game. We had excellent defense and I think that our press beat them. Our press worked real well against them and I think it frustrated them and caused them to foul up their offensive game.

"We committed 20 turnovers which it's terrible but we were causing them to make even more mistakes.

"Everyone was ready to play. Ronnie Bennet had 22 points, Jafus White had 27.

"Our inside game was working real well. I was happy with the overall effort.

"Elgin was undefeated and we beat them in their gym so you have to be happy with that."

Yoe Girls Split Wins With Giddings

It was two in a row for the varisty girls Monday night when they defeated Lexington 25-24 and revenged an earlier loss to Lexington. The JV girls found them too tough in the first half and fell in defeat 37-44.

In the varsity game the Yoe girls had a cold night from the field shooting only 23 23% .but were still able with fine defensive action to hold off Lexington.

Lexington had defeated the Yoe girls earlier in he season 35-6.

At the end of the first half the girls faced a 4 point deficit 17-13.

Coach Linda Puckett said, "This was our best defensive effort for the season. Sandra Broadus did an excellent job defending under the basket. Diana Chubb pulled in 15 rebounds and Janet Angell had 10."

Evelyn Pittman led the scoring attack with 18 points. Pittman also had 10 offensive rebounds to her credit.

The Yoe girls held Lexington to 0 points in the third quarter and were able to tie the game up 17-17.

Then it was a see-saw battle down to the final buzzer when the Yoe girls had four turnovers in the last 34 seconds but were able to keep Lexington scoreless.

Georgia Wheeler had 5 points and Brenda Gooden had 2. The girls hit 7 of 18 attempts at the free throw line.

In the JV game the girls couldn't rebound from a first quarter deficit of 17-6. The Yoe girls got off to a slow start and Lexington was able to take advantage of the first quarter and pull off a 7 point victory.

Tullalah Green led the scoring with 26 followed by Janet Mondrik with 9. Connie Widner rounded out the scoring with 2.

From the free throw line the Yoe JV hit 1 of 7 attempts. The Yoe JV lost to Lexington early in the season 38-20.

Our family Bible is a venerable volume. It has been passed from generation to generation, going to the oldest each time, and now, as long as I live, it shall be mine.

I have always been fascinated by this wedding picture of my Grandmother and Grandfather Harris, which has always been located at the page which records their marriage. I recall when this peppery, little gray-haired lady showed me the picture for the first time. Her fingers were old and wrinkled — trembling as she turned to it.

Notice that a church appears not once, but twice, in the drawings. I have always thought this symbolic because the Church was such an important factor in Grandmother's life. Her Faith upheld her through many dark times, and what was important was that she communicated it to all of us. Another priceless inheritance from my Grandmother — her Bible and her Faith.
